BRYANS'S LETTERS CAUSE COMMENT

SAYS TAFT ENDORSES DEMO-CRATIC POLICIES OF 1896.

TO BE READ TO FAITHFUL

Also intimates that both Roosevelt and President Official Steel Demonstrate Doctrines.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—A letter from William Jennings Bryan, written from Brazil, will be read tonight before the democrats who will attend the Jefferson Day banquet
here and at Indianapolis, was made public today.

The letter contains the usual antitrust declarations but a portion which caused a flurry among the politicians
is contained in these paragraphs:

"But there is another item of news
which has come to my attention.
President Taft, in his Lincoln Day speech at New York, Feb. 12th, attributes the present high prices mainly to the increase in the production of gold, and the consequent enlargement of the volume of money.

"This unexpected endorsement of the platform of our party proposed in 1896, when we demanded more money
as the only remedy for the falling prices, is very gratifying.

"How valuable that admission would have been to us if it had been made during the campaign that year when the republican leaders were denying that the volume of money had any influence on the prices and asserting that it did not matter whether we had much money or little, provided it was all good."

HARTRIDGE LOSES SUIT AND MAY BE INDICTED HIMSELF

Thaw's Attorney Fails to Collect Fees and Faces Trial For Perjury.

New York, N. Y., April 12.—(Clifford Hartridge failed today to collect the balance of ninety-two thousand dollars as counsel fees and disbursements for defending Harry Thaw in his first trial for the murder of Stanford Whitely.

ATTEMPTS TO KILL PROMINENT FARMER

John Welsch of Mount Serenely Wounded by Elmer Williams Who Is Held.

Cambridge, Wis., April 12.—Elmer
Williams of Mount, a small village 15 miles northwest of this city, shot and seriously wounded John Welsch, a prominent farmer residing near Mount Tuesday night. The bullet struck Welsch on the side of the head just missing his temple, but he will recover.
The affray was the result of an old feud, Williams having had trouble with the farmer before. Williams was arrested and taken to the county jail
at Halsam Lake to await trial.

DEMONSTRATION WAS GIVEN ROOSEVELTS

Bands Play and All Honors Given to Royalty Usually Are Thwarted.

Porto Marizale, April 12.—Colonel Roosevelt and son left this afternoon for Venice on the Italian government's special car. The city officials escorted Col. Roosevelt to the station amid a veritable rain of flowers. As the train pulled out a military band played the "Star Spangled Banner" and the crowd shouted "Long live Roosevelt!"

FRENCH OFFICIAL TARGET FOR SHOTS

Anarchist Attempts to Kill M. Flory,
President of the Court, in Palace of Justice.

Paris, April 12.—There was a sensation at the Palace of Justice today
when an anarchist fired four shots at
M. Flory, president of the court. Flory was not hit and the would-be assassin
was arrested.

POSTMASTERS OF NEW ENGLAND AT BOSTON

Boston Mass April 12.—Postmasters from all parts of New England are in attendance at the semi-annual convention of the Postmasters' Association of New England, which met here today at the American House. The session was opened this morning by President John Duff, postmaster of New Bedford. Many interesting addresses were delivered and valuable papers read on various subjects of interest to postmasters. The convention will close with a banquet at the American House this evening.

ROBIN COOPER NOW FREE AND FATHER GIVEN A PARDON

Supreme Court of Tennessee Acts on Appeal in Cases of Alleged Slayers of Senator Carmack.

Nashville, Tenn., April 12.—In the case of the state against Col. Cooper and his son, Robin, sentenced to the murder of Senator Carmack, the supreme court today affirmed the verdict in the case of the father and reversed
the lower court's decision as to young Cooper.

Father Pardoned.
This afternoon Gov. Patterson pardoned Col. Cooper, who is sixty-five years old.

PRISON OFFICERS FEAR FOR HEALTH OF BANKER WALSH

Physical Condition of Chicago Financier Said to Be Causing Uneasiness.

Leavenworth, Kansas, April 12.—
The physical condition of John H.
Walsh, the Chicago banker, serving a sentence in the federal prison, is causing uneasiness and it is feared he may collapse.

FLAMES DESTROY BRICK WALLS OF NEW HAVEN JAIL

Prisoners Escape But Many Firemen
Are Injured in a Hundred and Seventy-five Thousand Dollar Fire.

New Haven, Conn., April 12.—A terrible fire seemed to make a meal of the brick walls of the county jail
today following the burning of the wooden buildings of the New England Chalmers company, adjoining. Five firemen were injured and several others are missing. The prisoners were removed safely. The loss is a hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars.

WANT DEMOCRATS TO REMAIN STEADFAST

Leaders See Victory for Party if Nomination of the Voters Support La Follette.

La Crosse, Wis., April 12.—To prevent the democrats of Wisconsin going over to La Follette is admitted to be the main object of the Jefferson Day banquet which will be held tonight
and at which 2000 people will be held.
An effort will be made to launch Burr
W. Jones of Madison, the principal speaker, as candidate for governor.
The democrats leaders say they have a good chance to carry Wisconsin at next fall if they can prevent the voters
from becoming party light.
Chairman Hanson of Watrous and a number of the democratic leaders of the surrounding cities will be present.

DEMS OF MINNESOTA GATHER AT ST. PAUL

Mayors of Minneapolis and Duluth and Potential Candidates for Governor Among Speakers.

St. Paul, Minn., April 12.—Democrats, great and small, from many parts of Minnesota, are gathered in the capital to worship tonight at the shrine of democracy's patron saint,
Thomas Jefferson, the occasion being the Jefferson dollar dinner in the St.
Paul auditorium. The scheduled speakers include John Lind and Congressman Hammond, both of whom are regarded as potential candidates for the governorship; Judge C. W.
Stanton, Mayor Lawler of St. Paul, Mayor Haynes of Minneapolis, and Mayor Cullom of Duluth.

ACTIVE CAREER OF COL. PATTEN CLOSED

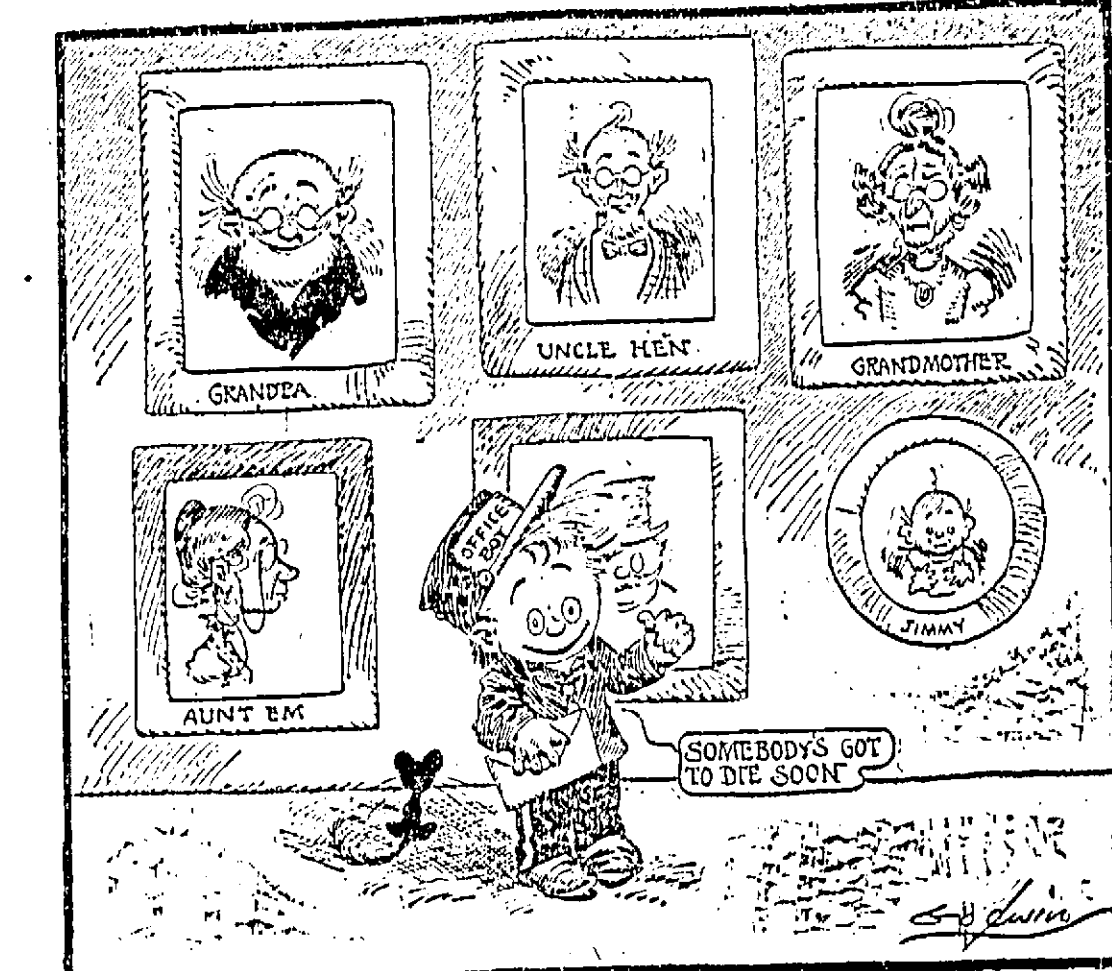

Assistant Quartermaster General
Transferred to The Retired List
On His Own Application.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Col.
William S. Patten, Assistant quartermaster general, closed his active career in the army today, having been transferred to the retired list on his own application after more than thirty-four years of service. Col. Patten is from New York and entered the army in 1875. He has recently served as chief quartermaster of the East, with headquarters in New York.

ADVANCES THE PAY OF MANY EMPLOYEES

United States Steel Corporation to Benefit by Six Per Cent

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 12.—An advance in the pay of thousands of employees of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation, equal to six per cent, is said to have been decided upon.

HAMMERSTEIN BOUND FOR REALM OF SONG

Great Impresario is on His Way to Europe to Arrange for Next Opera Season.

New York, April 12.—Oscar Hammerstein was among the passengers on the steamer "Mauretania" which sailed from this port today. The indefatigable impresario is on his way to Europe to complete his arrangements for the next opera season. He has already obtained the sole rights for Hammerstein's new opera, "Don Quixote," for the opera "Chiquita," and the latest opera by Richard Strauss, "Die Frau ohne Schatten," which is a light and melodious character, entirely different from the somber and gruesome "Salome" and "Elektra." He expects to engage a number of singers, among them Murphy, the first tenor of the Paris opera, and Miss Livorno, the dramatic soprano. His travels will extend to Calais, Algiers, St. Petersburg, Moscow, Vienna, Budapest, Berlin and all through Italy.

"WHITE SLAVERS" ARE BROUGHT TO COURT

Six Were Arraigned and Twenty Others Are to Be Arrested in New York.

New York, April 12.—With the arraignment of six men in the Brooklyn
court today and the announcement that warrants were out for twenty others, the police declared the biggest raid on the dealers in "white slaves"
ever made in New York is in progress.
Eight girls have testified thus far,
one of them nine years old, and the oldest fifteen.

PITTSBURG YOUTHS' MYSTERIOUS DEATHS

Sons of Wealthy Italian Die From Poison—May Have Been a Mistake.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 12.—Two sons of Philip Badali, a wealthy Italian of Wilkesburg, were found dead in bed early today. The youths, aged 18 and 16, were victims of poison, according to the coroner's office, either administered by someone or taken by mistake for medicine. Much mystery surrounds the deaths.

Saint Etienne, France, April 12.—A workman named Duplaud, armed with a brace of revolvers and a knife,
and declaring that he wished to kill Premier Briand, was arrested today
as he attempted to force his way into the hotel where Briand was stopping.
It is believed he was crazed by drink.

ANNUAL BENCH SHOW OPENS AT WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., April 12.—The first annual bench show of the Washington Kennel Club opened today with nearly 1,000 entries representing sixty breeds of dogs from famous kennels
throughout the country. The exhibition is one of the most complete ever given in the East, with the possible exception of several field classes, such as pointers and beagles. The setter, spaniel, bull terrier and blood class are all well represented. The show will last through the remainder of this week.

Marriage License: A marriage license was issued today to Thomas H.
Smith and Augusta Anna Schrandt,
both of Clinton.

ELEVEN MEN DIE IN AN EXPLOSION NEAR EASTON, PA.

Premature Explosion Tears Loose
Five Thousand Tons of Rocks.

Easton, Pa., April 12.—Eleven men,
all foreigners, were crushed to death in a stone quarry near here today. A premature explosion tore loose five thousand tons of stone, covering the victims.

DIES FROM WOUNDS OF A HIGHWAYMAN

Albert Cravens, Who Was Shot Last Night, Passed Away—Suspect
Is Held.

Danville, Ill., April 12.—Albert
Cravens, who was shot by highway-men last night, died today. Two persons are held as suspects. Rumors of mob violence have reached the city
from Champaign, the former home of the murdered man.

SUFFRAGETTES IN NATION'S CAPITAL

Several Hundred Advocates Of Voting
Franchise For Women On Hand
For Convention.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Several hundred women, all more or less prominent in the woman's suffrage movement of the present time, have arrived here already and several hundred more are expected to arrive in Washington tonight and tomorrow morning, to attend the forty-third annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association which will hold its opening session at the Arlington Hotel to-morrow night. The convention will continue until next Tuesday, inclusive, and promises to be the most notable gathering of its kind ever held in America.

President Taft has promised to deliver an address on the opening night of the convention and this will be an event of historical interest, as it will be the first time that a President of the United States has appeared as a speaker before a woman's suffrage convention. Another interesting feature of the program of the convention will be the presentation to Congress of a petition praying for universal suffrage and bearing the signatures of more than one million women representing every state of the Union.
The petition will be conveyed to the capitol in a large and handsomely decorated truck. At the close of the convention the judiciary committee of the House of Representatives and the woman's suffrage committee of the United States Senate will grant hearings to the delegates in favor of a bill providing for a Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution, enfranchising
women.

Mrs. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, will make her annual report on the opening night,
when she will review the progress made by the suffragists during the past year, and will touch upon the plans for future propaganda. Full reports will be presented from the states in which women already have the right to vote and also from the states in which suffrage legislation is now pending. During the week of the convention Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, the treasurer of the association, will conduct a state presidents
class and Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch will conduct an operative meeting, at which Mrs. Phyllis W. Fitzgerald of Boston, Mrs. Helen La Fette Baker and the Misses Kengley of Seattle, Miss Ray Costello of England and Miss Inez Millholland of New York will deliver addresses.

The list of speakers is unusually long and includes among other noted suffrage advocates Senator Robert L.
 Owen of Oklahoma, Prof. Frances Squire Potter, Miss Alice Paine, a noted suffrage advocate, Mrs. Kate Frimble Wolsey of Kentucky; Mrs.
Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Woman Suffrage Association; Dorothy Dix, Mrs. Oliver H.
P. Belmont, representing the Political Equality association of New York and Mrs. Minnie Fitz-Jones, founder of the No-Vote, No-Tax association, who has prepared a platform of "declaration of independence," which will be submitted to the convention for adoption.

NEW HAMPSHIRE G. A. R. ASSEMBLES AT CONCORD

Concord, N. H., April 12.—Concord has donned patriotic attire in honor of the Grand Army encampment of the department of New Hampshire,
which opened a two days' session here today. There is a large attendance of comrades from all parts of the state and the presence of Commend-ant-in-Chief Van Sant, of Minnesota,
has added to the interest.

NEW OFFICIAL HAS TAKEN HIS OFFICE AS AN ASSISTANT

Washington, D. C., April 12.—William S. Kenyon of Iowa was appointed assistant attorney general and assumed his office today. He will have charge of the trust prosecutions.

MOB MUTILATES THE BODY OF NEGRO WHO KILLED HIS JAILER

Officers Shoot Slayer and Infuriated Citizens of Meridian Wreak Vengeance on the Body.

Meridian, Miss., April 12.—Tom
O'Neil, a negro, who shot and killed
Jailer Temple today, was himself killed by the officers in a fight in the basement of the jail. A crowd of two thousand people took the body of O'Neil, who was expiring, from the officers and hanged his body on a pole.
After the body was lowered the throat
was cut and the clothing saturated with kerosene and set afire. The body was rescued after the clothing was burned.

BELIEVES SHE IS HEIR TO ESTATES

Ann Arbor Woman Thinks She Is Relative to Deceased Swedish Multi-Millionaire.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 12.—Mrs.
Nellie Christman of this city thinks
she is one of the heirs of the $200-
000,000 estate of Charles Christman
Springer, late of Stockholm, Sweden.
In an effort to locate the heirs to the estate, Attorney Scribner, of Ann Arbor, Mich., has been in Ann Arbor
several days conferring with Mrs.
Christman. Mr. Scribner is the genealogist of the Springer family.

AWAIT SIGNAL TO PLAY BALL

SEASON OPENS TOMORROW ON MAJOR LEAGUE CIRCUITS

'FANS' ON THE QUI VIVE

Changes in Management of the Various Teams Are Numerous—Survey of the Outlook.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Games on the Opening Day
National League.
New York at Boston.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cincinnati.
American League.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Cleveland at Detroit.
Philadelphia at Washington.
Boston at New York.

New York, April 12.—The umpire's
cry of "play ball" will resound
throughout the major league circuits tomorrow and the baseball season of 1910 will be started on the long six months' pennant war. After many weeks of preparation and training in the South the sixteen clubs composing the National and American leagues are in fine fettle and ready to begin the championship struggle. That the "fans" are likewise ready and eager for the initial games goes without saying.

The club owners' managers and other interested in the business and of the national game predict that the present season will be the most prosperous from a financial point of view that the game has ever known. Their prediction is based largely on the steady increase in population of the United States and the amazing increase in the baseball population. If the forecasts are reliable nearly 100-000,000 persons will pay their way into the ball parks of the big and little leagues this summer.

National League Changes.
Radical changes in team composition and managers this year have increased the uncertainties of the pennant race. In the National league the baseball fan finds that Philadelphia
is under an entirely new ownership, with Horace Fogel as president and William Doolan as manager in place of William Murray. Pitchers Coveleske and Corridon were released by Philadelphia in Cincinnati in exchange for Pitchers Ewing and Brennan. Corridon was released by Cincinnati to St. Louis together with Oakes and Huggins in exchange for Beeks and Storke.
Storke died recently in Newton, Mass.
Pittsburg remains practically unchanged from last year's club, which won the National league pennant and the world's championship. Catcher John Kling, who refused to play last season, has returned to the Chicago team. Other changes in the Chicago team were the release of Del Howard and the acquisition of Deamont, last season with Boston.
Changes in American.
Many changes will be noted in the American league. Willie Keeler and Norman Etheridge will be missed from the New York club. The new men in the Giants' lineup are Lou Criger, last season with St. Louis and Harry Weller, who was released from Boston.
The Duffy, Chicago's new manager,
brought with him from Providence Blackburn to play shortstop, and at the same time released the veteran
George Davis and Jake Atz. In Boston
Patrick Donovan succeeds Fred Lake
as Manager. Washington's new manager is James McLaughlin, former manager of the St. Louis Browns. Manager McLaughlin has braced his infield
by the acquisition of Elberfeld of New York.
At St. Louis Jack O'Connor has succeeded McAleer as manager. St.
Louis released Hobie Ferris and acquired Abstein, last season with Pittsburg, to play first base. About the only change of consequence to be noted in the Cleveland club is the decision of Napoleon Lajoie to play
first instead of second base. Philadelphia will make the race with the same team which did so well last year and the lineup of the champion Detroit club likewise remains practically unchanged.
American Association Opens.
Columbus, O., April 13.—With bright prospects of a successful year the American Association starts its season today with Kansas City playing at Minneapolis Milwaukee at St. Paul, Indianapolis at Toledo and Louisville
at Columbus. The big-league minor league has scheduled a season of 168
games, with Sept. 25 as the closing date.
Western Association.
Tulsa, Okla., April 12.—In utter disregard of the 13 hoodoo the Western Association starts the season of 1910
today with all signs pointing to the most successful year in the history of
have been made in the circuit of last season, Tulsa taking the place of Springfield and Joplin returning to the association with the Pittsburg franchise. The schedule calls for a season of 125 games.

CHICAGO AMERICANS.
At left, Manager Hugh Duffy. At right, Captain Billy Sullivan.

From manager to bat boy nearly, the Chicago Americans league team will be a new outfit this season. Changes are numerous in both in and outfields, while the task of managing has been assigned to Hugh Duffy, a man whose career in the minor leagues has been marked by success.

Ever since the American league was organized the Chicago club has been known as "the hitless wonders." Under the management of that shrewd leader, Fiddler Jones, the White Sox were there or thereabouts in all times, and the game of hitless ball that the club played had them all guessing. The baseball world was given an awful job in 1906 when an aggregation of this class were the pennant in the American league and the Chicago Nationals in the world's series.

A great pitching staff and strong defense given generally made the White Sox the hardest team in the world to score upon and one who won many games for them, but last season there was a change. Fiddler Jones quit the game and Billy Sullivan took his place, although the job was not of his own seeking. The 1909 White Sox were never pennant contenders. This was a new condition. In an effort to make a change this season Hugh Duffy was secured as manager from Providence, while Charles Comiskey, the owner, split salaries of coin for new players.

According to the 1910 team will be practically new. One individual, Billy Purcell, at third, holds his job. Gandhill, secured from the coast, plays first; Zelder second, and Blackburn, from whom $5,000 was paid, is at short.

But, with this rebuilt team, you can't expect too much. It will take a year for Duffy to get his machine really working with his youngsters. Then, sure White Sox fans would come near being satisfied with a third place club. Better can hardly be expected.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

Mr. E. H. Polton, City.

Dear Sir, In reply to your inquiry as to how I like the Peck-Whitcomb Under-Food Machine which I have had in my home for two seasons, I will say that it has given perfect satisfaction.

In comparison with the Thatchers Tabular that I had before, this seems to give even heat, with less dust, and no fumes; at each time when I attend to it, the Under-Food requires a little more labor, but it does not require attention as often. In the cold weather I look after it twice daily, but once a day is enough when it is moderate, and the fire will keep 18 hours or longer. Most important, the Under-Food has cut down my fuel expense about half.

Regarding coal, I find No. 3 Caneville very satisfactory.

Yours very truly,
E. TRACY BROWN.

ROUND HOUSE MEN DEMAND MORE PAY

Night Force At Local St. Paul Shops Threaten To Strike If Demand Is Not Granted.

Unless the demand for higher wages made by the dozen odd members of the St. Paul round house night before is granted, there is a strong likelihood that another strike will complicate the labor situation in this city.

The demand for twenty-two and a half cents an hour was made unanimously by all machinists helpers, welders, firemen and pit men employed in the house and is a substantial increase over the present schedule. The men announced their determination to quit in a body Monday night if the desired increase were not given, but because the round house foreman had not the authority to grant the increase without consulting with division officials, the men decided to defer action until a consultation could be held.

Thus far, the road has not made public what will be done if favorable action is not taken soon on the proposition, the men are determined to strike. Such action may be expected either tonight or Thursday.

Because of the very general scarcity of labor, it is almost certain that operations at the round house will be tied up if the men go out. The strike and quitting fever seems to be very prevalent and it is a hard task to secure enough men for work on the railroad, especially at the present time.

RECEIVED WORD OF INCREASE IN WAGES

Switchmen Granted Raise Of Three Cents Per Hour—Switch Tendera Still Uncertain.

There is joy among the switchmen today as word has been received that an increase of three cents an hour has been granted by the roads. After negotiations extending over many months, during the course of which a huge strike loomed darkly many times, the switchmen's union has succeeded in securing a substantial advance, which, if not as much as originally asked, is satisfactory to the men. It will amount, substantially, to about $10 a month.

Other railroad employees of this city, among them the switch tenders, who sent in a request for more wages last week, are still in a state of doubt as to word has been received for the general offices as regards their request.

Assistant Superintendent Boynton of the Madison Division was in the city yesterday to superintend the forwarding of Madison Division cars in the new yards.

Sam Lee, foreman of the coal shed, has given up his position to go to Oregon. John Aldrich has taken his place.

Engineer Kaufman reported for work on the board this morning after a two weeks' lay off.

Engineer Miller took engine 1407, which has been in the shops for repairs, south on an extra yesterday at 4:45.

Fireman Egan has displaced William on the seven a. m. switch engine with Engineer L. Gestland.

Switchman John Barry took R. Stinson's place on the 6 a. m. switch engine today.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. According to a bulletin posted today, J. P. DeVoy has been appointed Assistant Superintendent of Motive Power on all lines east of the Mississippi river with offices at Milwaukee. J. J. Connors has also been given the place of Assistant Superintendent of Motive Power on all lines west of the Mississippi river with offices at Duluth.

Fireman Hummel went out on the dog run last night with Engineer Allen.

Will Sullivan has been added to the round house force as assistant in the oil house.

UTAH MAN PLANS AIRSHIP MAIL ROUTE AROUND THE WORLD

Map Showing the Route Outlined by D. A. Brodbeck and Count Zeppelin Airship which he expects to use as a model.

Washington, D. C.—In daring conception, backed by optimism, D. A. Brodbeck, president of the Aero club of Utah, takes first place. He plans to carry the world's mail in a series of airship lines extending completely around the world.

When Postmaster General Hitchcock, in running through his correspondence, found a very prosaic undated letter from Brodbeck asking the postoffice in a very businesslike manner if the department had authority to transport mail by airship, he was somewhat startled. Airships have developed rapidly during the last two years and there had been many suggestions that mail would in the future be carried in airships, but never before has the postal department had the proposition put up to them directly.

Postmaster Hitchcock advised Brodbeck that it would not be possible to transport mail by airship unless congress should specify airships as one of the means of transportation.

It is understood that the primary purpose of the line would be, however, for the transit of passengers. The ships would average 46 miles an hour, says Brodbeck.

The principal stations, according to the plan, would be New York, Chicago, Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Seattle, Port Williams, Berling, Sakhalin, Tokyo, Peking, Inukush, Omsk, Orenburg, Moscow, St. Petersburg, Riga, Berlin, Cologne, Paris and London.

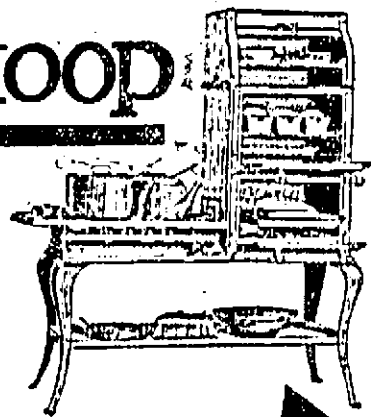

Brodbeck made application to the Salt Lake city council six months ago for a franchise to use a mountain side, English peak, as a terminal station for his line. He said he would like a franchise practically perpetual because his scheme was one not of today but of the future. The council let the proposition lie in committee until two months ago, when it was ordered "filed." The project was not considered seriously by the council.

On the Rocks.
Margaret Deland says that can't phrase about the hand that rocks the cradle being unfit or unable to cast a ballot are as silly as they are unconvincing. If the hand is so foolish or so incapable as that, it is more dangerous to the state to trust a cradle to it than to trust a ballot. No; her objection is only on the ground of expediency; all things are lawful—to go back to St. Paul—but all things are not expedient. If there could be a qualified suffrage for men and women, the case might be different. But the unqualified men won't give up what they have got, and the unqualified women are trying to get what they don't deserve—so there you are!

"The Old Man in the Belfry" Is Dead.
John Denham, known for many years as the "old man of the belfry," and for 40 years elder and trustee of the Church of the Sea and Land, is dead. He was a familiar figure on the East Side, and his time was solely devoted to the amelioration of the lot of the poor. Mr. Denham was born in Scotland in 1826, and came to New York in 1860, working for many years thereafter as a tailor. He became elder and trustee of the church, and when he retired from business, fifteen years ago, he took up his residence in the belfry of the building, so that he might be near the needy persons in the neighborhood.—New York Post.

TEST OF REPUBLICANISM.

What constitutes a republican, especially in Wisconsin, appears to be most doubtful. We are told by our "insurgent" friends, and Wisconsin's woods appear full of them, that they are the real republicans. We are informed by the speeches of Payne, Aldrich, Cannon, and others of the old line members of the U. S. P., that they are the only true republicans. Consequently the average partisan is doubtful just as to his status in national affairs.

The Milwaukee Free Press, the paper which originally saw nothing but good in the leader of the Wisconsin insurgents, defines as a test of republicanism the following. It quotes from President Taft's address last week in which he says:

"No man has the right to read another out of the republican party. He reads himself out of it. If not disloyal, he can by his words and acts show his loyalty."

"Such, in brief, is the position of President Taft toward the national legislators of the party of which he is the head."

"Before making this statement in his address to the League of Republican Clubs of the District of Columbia he defined his conception of party loyalty at this time."

"It consists," he said, "in working to redeem the pledges of the republican party, in demonstrating that one does not desert the success of that party."

"No criterion could be more fair and liberal."

"Nothing is said of the necessity of following this or that leader, or voting for this or that specific bill."

"The speaker emphasized that the republican party is not rigid in its demands. That it is big enough and broad enough and liberal enough to tolerate differences of opinion, even disagreement as to principles."

"It merely insists on loyalty in act and word, and no party as a political organization with moral obligations could long endure if it did not insist on that."

"Moreover, the test of loyalty, as the president says, is self-applicable. 'By their fruits ye shall know them.' When this season of congress adjourns it will require neither an Aldrich nor a Beveridge, a Cannon nor a Cooper, to call the roll on the roll of sham republicans."

"The congressmen, whether in house or senate, who have labored for the redemption of the party's pledges in the interests of the people, and in a spirit of party harmony and personal abnegation, will be republicans."

"But those congressmen who have stood in the light of such legislation, either because they placed private interests above party and popular welfare, or sought to coin personal political advantage out of party disruption, those congressmen may be anything they will, but they will not be republicans."

"As President Taft's remarks were directed alike against 'regulars' and 'insurgents,' so will this test apply alike to 'regulars' and 'insurgents.'"

"Regularly or insurgence, as those terms are generally understood, are not criteria of party loyalty; but fidelity to party pledges and furtherance of party interest assuredly are."

If we follow these tests we must eliminate Cooper from the list of real republicans as far as national politics are concerned. The great cry of the strength of Cooper in congress, that has always been raised by his supporters in past campaigns, appears now to be lacking and if he is to be counted as one of those who have read themselves out of the republican party what party ticket can he claim allegiance to and ask for the support of his constituents?

LOST OPPORTUNITIES.

This world is filled with lost opportunities. Men and women often see in after years the mistakes of their early endeavors. Cities make mistakes at critical times in their history and never reach beyond the overgrown village stage, and some communities even vanish from the face of the earth as did "Goldsmith's Deserted Village." The community that is quick to grasp the opportunity when offered; the city that is progressive and ready to move ahead with the procession always prospers. It needs united efforts of all classes of citizens to bring about the desired results and everyone must bear their share of the burden just as all benefit by the prosperity that follows.

Janesville is at the present time doing much in the way of a united effort to increase its population, bring new industries here, and the results are already being felt. With an ideal location, a delightful climate, good railroad facilities, it has much to offer to the outside world as an inducement to locate factories here and build up the city that is among the oldest in the southern portion of the state. It is pleasing to note that the citizens generally are taking much interest in the movement and that it is receiving hearty support from all sources.

The west is filled with lost cities; scores of towns that have vanished as communities. County seat contests have been the cause of the disappearance of not a few; shifting rivers have made others vanish; while some were merely paper towns. A striking instance of change is shown by Fort Calhoun, in Nebraska, the site of the Lewis and Clark treaty with the Indians in 1804. It was in the early sixties a town of 1,200 persons, due in part to the proximity of the military post. It was then the county seat of Washington county and strongly aspired to be the capital when the territory became a state. Nebraska university was also founded there. The army post was abandoned, the capital was located elsewhere, the railroads passed it by, it dwindled into a mere hamlet, and the university closed its doors.

Two large parties of emigrants went into Nebraska in 1856, one from Missouri, composed of democrats, and the other from Iowa, made up of republicans. They located within twenty miles of each other, the democrats calling their town Buchanan and the republicans naming theirs Fremont, after their candidate for president. Fremont is a flourishing city of 15,000 people today, while Buchanan disappeared from the map.

In the old days in the west profit and prosperity were believed to accrue to every county seat, and numerous places were started with hopes of that nature that were not fulfilled. Many towns disappeared owing to the fact that townsites companies were made up of railroad officials who found it more profitable to pass over the existing towns and to locate new ones.

These places were perhaps inseparable from the building up of an immense new and unknown territory. In the process of development eastern money clamored for investment in the west, and much of it went into the hands of speculators who laid out paper towns, whereof the future, glowing with promise, never materialized. While these towns are today among the missing, there are hundreds of important places where the funds of the easterners were the basis for thriving cities.

"Credo Joe" is delinquent again. It would look as though he really wanted the insurgents and democrats tooust him from his seat as speaker so that he can have a good fighting issue to go before the voters of his district with. In fact, if they did oust him it would look like more than a difference of opinion on the part of the republican insurgents and might be just cause to work against the re-election of this class of men at the coming fall election. Perhaps there is a deep political move behind the whole Cannon incident.

Eastern editorial writers are predicting a speedy change in the makeup of the Taft cabinet. They say that the makeup of the cabinet, with men who never were republicans and never in sympathy with the doctrines of that party, has weakened the administration. Perhaps this is true, but one must experiment before assured that the old line strict party spokesmen is the best for all concerned. President Taft tried to make his cabinet a broad-minded one and selected its members from the best material he could find. If he made a mistake it is not too late to rectify it.

Tomorrow the baseball fans throughout the country will sit and shiver in cold grandstands to watch the opening games of the season of fandom. The two big leagues start on Thursday, while the American Association played its first games today. Some way it looks as though the weather man had an affinity for cold weather about the time baseball opens.

Janesville people who are anxious to see that comet can lie in bed mornings for, as far as can be learned, it is not yet visible to the naked eye. By the way, there appears to be a great difference in opinion as to whether this world is going to have any serious results from the appearance of this tramp of the heavens. One local scientist is sure that we will all know it is in our vicinity before the summer is over.

Morocco's grand vizier has been seriously poisoned by three of his wives. Excessive matrimony has its drawbacks in every climate, particularly so in the United States where the law says a man shall have but one wife, and the average man is perfectly content to abide by the law, his experience with one being sufficient.

The epidemic for good roads has struck the common council and it is to be hoped that they will continue on their work with the same vigor as they began it on Monday evening. Good streets mean much to any city and Janesville is sadly in need of a boost in this direction.

Getting mentioned for a position on the supreme bench of the United States is like being voted for the position of United States senator in a legislative deadlock. Both are empty honors. However, the place is to be filled and it is to be hoped a good man will be selected.

Now that American pearls have gone up fifty per cent it is safe to say that the average diner will order his oysters raw so as to see if by any chance he may draw a prize in a plate of "blue points" or "rockaways."

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

Some day this heart will cease to beat; some day these worn and weary feet will tread the road no more; some day this hand will drop the pen, and I, never, never again, those rhymes which are a bore, and sometimes when the stars swing low, and music in breezes come and go, with music in my breath, I think of Death and Fate, and try to calmly contemplate this awful doom that waits for me.

END OF THE ROAD.

Which are a bore, and sometimes when the stars swing low, and music in breezes come and go, with music in my breath, I think of Death and Fate, and try to calmly contemplate this awful doom that waits for me. Such thinking does not raise my hair; my cheerful heart declines to weep or cheer against my fate; for Death, when all is said and done, is but the dusk, at set of sun, the interval of rest. But lines of sorrow mark my brow, when I consider that my fate, when I have ceased to wink, will have to face a crowd of people who're selling cheap tin monuments, and headstones made of zinc. And crayon portrait sharks will come, and make the house with language him, and ply their deadly game; they will enlarge my photograph, attach a hand-made epitaph, and put in a frame. They'll hang that horror on the wall, and then, when neighbors come to call, they'll vlow my crayon head, and wipe sad tears from other eyes, and lean against the chairs, and cry: "How fortunate he's dead!"

A Showing of the Latest Conceits in Tailored Suits of Pongee and Rajah

The Big Store is now displaying one of the largest and best lines of the new Pongee and Rajah tailored suits shown in Southern Wisconsin.

These novelties are much in vogue and like all other good things will soon be snapped up by the women most engaged for fashion's best creations.

A feature of the showing is the remarkable color range which includes natural pongees, light and dark grays, old rose, black and the new oyster grays.

The coats have the long shawl collar effect, 32-inch lengths, trimmings of covered buttons in two colors, silk corded buttons, Persian collars and cuffs, also mink and satin collars and cuffs piped with black and contrasting colors. Coats are all lined with plain and fancy silks. The skirts are plaited in clusters and kilted effects. Simplicity of design and perfect tailoring and workmanship throughout stamp these garments as of the highest class.

PRICES RANGE $25, $28, $30, $35, $38, $40

Selections can now be made from our very complete line. If you have in mind the purchase of one of these handsome suits we advise early buying as we will be unable to get more of them later.

Painless Philosophizing

I hope when I get through with this feverish world to be able to get some comfort from the thought that "In my daily life I had been instrumental in really relieving humanity of some of its sufferings."

Of course, I need bread and butter, and am pushing my business by telling through these columns week after week and month after month of my painless work.

But with it all, there is actual relief to many blind people who (like a patient said to me today), "I had read my ads for so long that finally they came into confidence enough to trust myself to my care." And who went away thanking me profusely.

If I didn't advertise and bring this matter to folks' attention, these people would fare differently, and I know it.

It will be the same with you.

JUST A WORD

to the people who enjoy a good cup of coffee. We have had a demonstrator at our store for the last two days showing the good quality of John Hoffman & Son's pure coffee. Especially their Old Time 25c grade. The coffee served here was certainly good, was the evidence of all who tried it. The coffee was fine and the demonstrator was finer. We were fortunate enough, in securing one of these large, noble, long-looking ladies for our demonstrator. She would certainly command the respect of everybody outside of the coffee business. And when she gets to demonstrating coffee words are inadequate to say anything further. The only fault we have to find is the limited time she was with us, but we hope to have her longer in the near future. Not more than one-tenth of our customers had a sample of this coffee. But to those who were not fortunate enough to receive a cup, we cheerfully recommend you to secure a cup at F. D. Samuel's, C. N. Van Kirk and J. C. ALSO LEFT BUNCH OF SKELETON KEYS

Second Story Men Who Visited Parker Pen Co. Plant Were a Bit Careless in Some Respects.

Decades the "Shedder" chisel with which the window was pried open, the thieves who looted the Parker Pen Co. offices at an early hour yesterday morning left a bunch of about 25 skeleton keys behind them as a souvenir of the visit. The memento was found on the shipping table yesterday in the course of a careful examination of the premises. Mr. Parker has also discovered that a pair of eyeglasses is missing from his desk. The burglar insurance, only covers pens not exceeding $25 in value so that the loss to the company on the three $200 ones will be considerable.

Mail Carrier Theodore Miller saw a tall stranger with a black grip peering into the window of the C. & N. W. baggage room about one o'clock in the morning. Failing to get any response presently cut across the little park to Academy street and disappeared in that direction. Officer Thomas Morrissey saw a man answering to the same description about the same time and he was accompanied by a short, thick-set individual.

The "Daily Bulletin" issued by the Chicago police department yesterday contained full particulars under the column headed "Lookouts," of the Parker Pen company theft.

ROCKFORD MAY NOT HAVE ANY SALOONS

Attorney General Of Illinois Answers Questions Relative To Issuing Of Saloon Licenses.

It is possible that despite the fact that it is voted to have saloons again after two years of dryness, the desire of the voters may not be accomplished. According to a Springfield, Ill. dispatch in a Chicago paper this morning the question appears to be in doubt.

A city council may amend the existing saloon ordinance or pass an entirely new one in the interim between the election in which a municipality is voted to become saloon territory and the period when such a vote becomes effective which is thirty days following the election.

This opinion was expressed today by Attorney General Stone in an opinion delivered to Mayor Mark Jarvin of Rockford. In the opinion of the attorney general there is no reason why such action cannot be taken by the council.

Even though the city voters "wet," says the attorney general, it is possible for it to remain "dry" so far as the granting of saloon licenses is concerned so long as a majority of the council votes against issuing any licenses. In other words, the law requires an ordinance licensing saloons before the saloons may be licensed.

"Y" EXHIBITION A WEEK FROM TONIGHT

Gymnastic Display By Members Of Association To Be Held At High School April 20.

The date of the gymnastic exhibition to be given by the members of the Y. M. C. A. classes has been set for next Wednesday, April 20, at the high school building. The consent of the board of education for the use of the auditorium has been secured and plans are now shaping so that all who are to take part in the exercises will be fully prepared. The exhibition, while largely illustrative of the work being done at the association, will be interesting to all who love sports of any kind. Representatives of all the classes, from the Juniors up to the Business Men, have been given something to do in the show. Besides the class drills, a number of special stunts, clever in their execution, have been arranged for. The Janesville Symphony Orchestra will render several selections.

POPULAR PLAY AT MYER'S OPERA HOUSE LAST NIGHT

Production of "A Mad Love" By Franklin Stock Company Was Well Received.

"A Mad Love" the offering of the Franklin Stock Company at the Myers theatre last night was well received and made a good impression. Tonight the company will produce "The Queen of the White Slaves" a play founded upon an actual instance of woman stealing in France, and known in international diplomatic circles as the "224th Madison Hotel Incident."

The third act of the piece showing the secret chamber of the elopement of the Highlanders with its lurid landscape, the torture chamber, the abandoned members of the Terrible Nine and the Gang of Death, is considered to be one of the wildest and most effective stage pictures ever painted into a melodrama. All audience members will be changed at each performance.

JANESVILLE MAY BE THE DIRECT ROUTE

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Road To Improve the Madison, Portage Line This Summer.

According to advices from a reliable source it is learned that contracts aggregating nearly $2,000,000 have been awarded by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, and work of double tracking the system between Chicago and Minneapolis will begin immediately. This is the main line of the through extension of the road and will give the Milwaukee-Minneapolis division the best possible service. At the old abandoned tunnel at Tunnel City, 500 men have been put to work reconstructing it. The tunnel is 1,500 feet long and the work of rebuilding will cost almost $1,000,000. McIntosh Bros. have the contract for the work.

It is said that the Madison-Portage division is to be rebuilt with heavier steel this season and put in shape to take care of some of the coast line through service over the short line to Chicago.

If this is done it may be possible that the much talked of plan for section of the Pioneer Limited that now runs through Milwaukee going via Janesville will be carried out. The great hindrance to this plan has been the condition of the road bed between Madison and Portage and if this is to be repaired then this obstacle is overcome.

ADJUSTMENT OF LABOR TROUBLES

Before They Become Acute Is Earnestly Desired By Industrial Club—Committee Appointed By Directors.

"Having in mind the welfare of the city of Janesville as a whole and the hope of an industrial, commercial, and civic revival, and without bias toward any special interest—Resolved: That we tender our services to aid in the solution of controversies that have arisen between skilled labor and employers in this city."

The foregoing resolution was passed by the directors of the Industrial and Commercial club of Janesville at the conclusion of a meeting held at the Gazette office at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was the outcome of a very important and thoughtful discussion of the issue that has arisen between the bricklayers and masons' union and the contractors. The merits of the controversy are, of course, unknown quantities and were not touched upon, but the fact that such a situation exists and must be reckoned with was deemed of the utmost importance. The club, after paying the way for a tentative offer of its services for arbitration, appointed a committee with instructions to use every endeavor to persuade both sides to seek a common ground where a satisfactory adjustment can be reached quickly before the issue becomes too acute for any settlement.

Thomas P. Burns, whose button mill burned some weeks ago, was present at the meeting and informed the directors that he wished to rebuild the plant and continue the business, which he regarded as possessing large possibilities from the standpoint of profits. Outside parties, including a group of men residing at Albany, Wis., had been in correspondence with him regarding the possibility of securing the plant and had offered substantial assistance. If proffered stock to the amount of $50,000 could be subscribed here, he thought it would be feasible to rebuild in Janesville. The matter was referred to the committee on industries and will be taken up at once.

WAUSAU COMPANY IS TO RAISE GINSENG

Stock Company With $50,000 Capital Organized To Grow Ginseng and Other Medicinal Plants.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Wausau, Wis., April 13.—Articles of incorporation were executed Monday night in this city creating the "Wausau Ginseng Company" with a capital stock of $50,000 for the purpose of growing and dealing in ginseng and other medicinal plants. The incorporators J. H. Koehler, W. R. Chellis, E. L. Boehm, Fred W. Gerlach, A. A. Boek and W. H. Koehler.

Besides growing ginseng for export to China, the company may also grow other medicinal plants. One of such plants which promises to become a profitable crop, is Hydrastis Canadensis. While in recent years the roots of this plant only sold for from 40 to 60 cents per pound, the price has, during the past three or four years, gradually gone up so that up to $1.75 per pound is being offered, and as the natural supply is fast being exhausted, the price may be expected to increase still more. Hydrastis Canadensis, a native forest plant, which is officially known in the United States as Pharmacopoeia, is a useful drug in digestive disorders and in certain enteral affections of the mucous membranes in the latter instances being administered both internally and locally.

Ginseng is also a native forest plant and is used for medicinal purposes to some extent in this country but chiefly in China to which country it is being exported; it now brings from $1.50 to $7.50 per pound in New York. At present prices the crop of one acre is worth about $30,000. It takes five years to mature a crop of ginseng from seed.

NORTHERN CHURCHES HOLD A CONFERENCE

Annual Meeting of Chippewa Presbytery Began Tuesday in City of Superior.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Superior, Wis., April 13.—The annual meeting of the Chippewa Presbytery which includes practically all of North Wisconsin, will be held in this city beginning last night and continuing through today. Among the speakers will be the moderator, Rev. A. E. Driscoll of Ashland, and Rev. Dr. Marshall of St. Paul, Rev. Dr. H. W. Knowles of Superior will give an address on the brotherhood movement and it is probable that the presbytery will take some action toward getting the Wisconsin synod to make more of a feature of this branch of church work. The churches of this city have been blazing the way in this respect and have been leaders in a movement, locally, to get the men of all Protestant churches of the city into a working organization that shall be for Christian purposes only and entirely disregard domination.

CAR THIEVES AT TRANSFER DEPOT

Broke Into Several Freight Cars Storing West Of Pearl Street During Early Morning Hours.

Sometime during the early morning hours several cars, which were brought here from Chicago and left on the siding at the C. The marauders' work was evidently not looking for candy and no great amount of the merchandise was taken. It is supposed that the work was done by hoboes.

INSURGENTS DISCUSS RESOLUTION DECLARING SPEAKER'S CHAIR TO BE VACANT.

HOLD IT UP FOR PRESENT

Would Act Near Close of Session After Administration Bills Are Disposed Of—Held Extended Conference Behind Closed Doors.

Washington, April 13.—The house insurgents are showing symptoms of another outbreak, and before the present session closes the house probably will be called upon to vote again on a resolution to unseat Speaker Cannon. The persistent bitter attacks of Mr. Cannon upon the insurgents rankle. He keeps inviting a movement to unseat him, and many want to accommodate him. Whether enough votes can be mustered to declare the speakership vacant is problematical.

A resolution declaring the speaker's chair to be vacant has been drawn by the insurgents and is reposing in the inside pocket of Representative Hau-

Speaker Cannon.

gen of Iowa. Further, there was a long conference of some twenty members of the insurgent faction to discuss the desirability of presenting that resolution at once. After an extended conference, however, it was decided that it should not be introduced until after the president's legislative program is carried out.

Center Behind Closed Doors.

The confab was behind closed doors in Representative Poinsett's room, before the house met, and though the culprits of the more conservative radicals prevailed in the end, there were several of those who are in rebellion against the speaker who favored the immediate introduction of the resolution. The cooler heads had in mind the president's speech of last Saturday night when they decided against the immediate fight upon "Uncle Joe." They interpreted that speech to mean that, notwithstanding what Attorney General Wickorham said in Chicago, that the president is willing to let bygones be bygones and will have his judgment of the regularity of representatives upon their actions regarding the measures he stands for rather than their votes upon the tariff bill. And they argued that it would be better to delay action until after the railroad bill, the postal savings bank bill and the like are enacted into law before showing their real feelings towards Speaker Cannon.

CATS AND DOGS ARE CREMATED.

Auto Truck Tank Explodes and Forty Animals Burn to Death.

New York, April 13.—The gasoline tank of an automobile truck belonging to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals exploded at St. Lawrence avenue and Merrill street, Westchester, and in the fire that resulted 40 cats and dogs were burned to death. Thomas Murray, who was on the automobile, was slightly burned about the face.

EDENSBURG, PA., IS BURNING.

Half of Town in Flames When Altoona Is Asked for Aid.

Altoona, Pa., April 13.—Word was received here late last night that a big fire was raging in Edensburg, Cambria county, near here. Half the town was aflame and beyond efforts to save it. All possible assistance has been asked of the Altoona fire department.

Gain by Justice Moody.

Haverhill, Mass., April 13.—That Justice William H. Moody, of the Supreme Court of the United States will be in his seat next October is the confident belief of his social and political friends in this city. The improvement in his condition has been marked in the last few weeks. Moses H. Dow, an intimate friend of Justice Moody, visited him last week at the Corcoran hospital, Brookline, and said that except for a lame knee the result of an old football injury, Mr. Moody would be back in his home today and could return to Washington within a month.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

LISTEN!

Opportunity knocks at your door. Did you hear? No? Then certainly you did not listen or you must be deaf. It was no fault of hers that you did not respond. And will she knock again? Certainly.

Do not believe the fallacy that Opportunity knocks but once at every man's door. You might just as well believe the sun shines but once on every man's head.

Opportunity is impartial. If you say you have had no chance in the world you are mistaken. You have had plenty of chances. Maybe you were asleep when Opportunity knocked or too impulsive to pay attention or too lazy.

Opportunity is persistent.

If when she calls and knocks you sneak behind the curtain and pretend you are not "at home," she will even slip her card under your door inviting you to make the return call.

Every day men and women will tell you they had a chance, perhaps a great chance, once on a time, but they didn't "see it." They let it slip.

That's it.

Opportunity was on hand, but they were too busy or too ignorant or too indolent to answer the doorbell.

Listen! Do not put your fingers in your ears. And, above all, do not unhook your mind that your day is over. If you are in that mood you will not hear even though Opportunity shouts at you through the keyhole.

Listen for Opportunity.

She is really kind hearted when you come to know her. And she has pounded on your front door many a time. She has even begged you to let her in. She would go in partnership with you. And you turned over in your bed and snored. It is a wonder she did not permanently strike you off her visiting list. But she did not.

Listen for the taps.

When you hear so much as a whisper or even a sigh, sit up and pay attention. It may be Opportunity's self. Rub the mists of sleep out of your eyes. At the very first tap get out of bed and open the door—quickly, mind you!

No opportunity for you?

"You say the world is all wrong? Why, 'God's in his heaven and all's well.' Only you—you are all wrong. Even now Opportunity waits, and you will not heed."

Smile at the jade and she will smile back. Recall at her too often and one day she will smile you as you deserve.

TRAINMEN AGREE TO ARBITRATE

New York Central Employees Leave Wage Scale to Board of Three.

New York, April 13.—The wage dispute between the trainmen and conductors of the New York Central railroad and the officials of the company is to be settled by arbitration. All points of difference will be arbitrated by E. E. Clark, member of the Interstate commerce commission, and P. B. Morrissey, president of the Railway Employers' and Investors' association. They will appoint a third arbitrator if necessary.

The agreement to arbitrate affects about 5,800 employees of the New York Central system on the lines east of Buffalo, comprising the New York Central railroad proper, the West Shore and the Boston & Albany.

MANY REPRIEVED BY OIL SUIT DECISION

Action of Supreme Court in Reopening Case Acts as Stay in Similar Suits.

Washington, April 13.—Action will be deferred by the department of justice against those combinations or trusts believed to be operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, where the vital points of attack on such corporations are similar to those in the suits awaiting settlement, as a result of the postponement of a decision by the supreme court in the Standard Oil and the tobacco trust cases, because of the desire of that tribunal for a reargument of the issues involved.

In the broad area of the law not covered by the Standard Oil and the tobacco cases there is considerable room, however, for operation and where there is sufficient evidence of the existence of combinations in restraint of trade and an agreement to fix prices, prosecutions will continue. This attitude in administration circles.

On the judicial interpretation of the word "monopoly" by the supreme court in the big cases hinges the method of procedure by the department of justice in its future action in important trust prosecutions. That word is said never to have been defined adequately in English jurisprudence and the construction to be placed on it by the court, therefore is awaited with the greatest interest.

WILL BE TRIED A THIRD TIME.

Man Charged With Murder Again Faces Trial—Convicted Twice.

Mount Vernon, Ill., April 13.—The trial of Lincoln Johnson, charged with the murder of Horace Moran at Chester, October 17, 1905, is in the circuit court here for trial on the charge of venue from Randolph county. Johnson has been tried twice before and convicted each time, but got the new trial on a technicality concerning the instructions to the jury. He was a prison official at the Southern Illinois penitentiary and got into a difficulty with Moran, who was the Wabash freight agent, regarding rates and what him to death.

LEAVES $100,000 TO CHARITY.

Ten Millions, Not One Hundred, for the Heir of Wealth.

Washington, April 13.—When the will of the late Thomas F. Walsh was filed for probate it was found that the son of the daughter of the millionaire would be not the "$100,000,000 baby," but merely one of the many babies who can count themselves as merely millionaires when they grow up to man's estate.

The estate of Mr. Walsh, as shown by his will, reaches a total of $10,000,000, or maybe $15,000,000. The bulk of this sum is left to the widow and the daughter, now Mrs. Edward McLenn, and through her to the baby that has been supposed to be the "$100,000,000 baby."

One hundred thousand dollars is left to charity, but no specific beneficiary is named.

MARSEILLES STRIKE SPREADS.

Unions Join Revolving Naval Reserve—Troops Occupy City.

Marseilles, France, April 13.—The shoring strike of the naval reservists has taken on new life and the city is now occupied by the troops. The sympathetic strike of the railway employees gave considerable trouble, most of the cars being tied up, but the men have decided to resume work today. The members of the Store Clerks' union also inaugurated a sympathetic strike and this will be continued, it is announced, until the reservists secure satisfaction. The bakers began a sympathetic strike and the prefect of Marseilles has requisitioned the military bakers to replace them.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN TRUNK.

Mother of Missouri County Official Missing Six Days Near Palmyra.

Hannibal, Mo., April 13.—The body of Mrs. Gertrude Maxwell, a well-to-do widow, who lived alone on her farm, one mile east of Palmyra, was found in a trunk at her home by Sheriff Thomas C. Lashley. She had been missing since last Wednesday. The lid of the trunk was closed, but not locked. A cloth was found in the room, but there were no marks of violence on the body. Mrs. Maxwell is the mother of Wade Maxwell, county clerk of Marion county.

PLEAD FOR UNIFORM PURE FOOD STATUTES

Commissioners of Western States Urge That Local Laws Follow National Regulation.

Boise, Idaho, April 13.—With Commissioner J. H. Wallis of Idaho presiding the Western Food Commission association is in session at the state capital here.

Gov. James H. Brady and Mayor Joseph Spencer welcomed the commission, ten states being represented. President Wallis appointed committees on regulations, constitution, government, inspection, net weights, approval of labels, blending of flour, near beer standards and uniform laws.

President Wallis in his report to the convention recommended that the convention adopt regulations for the uniformity of state and national food laws. Other speakers were H. J. Fagin, assistant commissioner of the department of agriculture; Commissioner Hanson of Utah, director of Nevada, Maine of Nebraska, Bailey of Oregon, Dr. John Dill Robertson, Chicago, and others.

DEMOCRATS HOLD "LOVE FEAST."

National Club League Assemble in Biennial Session at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 13.—This city is today the scene of the largest and most important gathering of Democrats since the last national convention. The occasion is the biennial meeting of the National Democratic league of clubs, and the day selected is as usual the birthday of Thomas Jefferson. Tonight the great banquet or "love feast" will be held in the German house, and the list of speakers for that event and of those at the banquet table includes so many of the party's leaders that it is considered almost a certainty that the man who will be the Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1912 is among the number.

The all-day conference of the league delegates has brought together the fighting forces of Democracy and plans are being discussed for the conduct of the congressional and state campaigns of this year and the next national campaign. Organization, education and agitation is the war cry and the importance of building clubs in every community is impressed on those in attendance. Colonel Williams C. Lillier of Indianapolis, chairman of the league, presided over the conference.

DECIDES ESTATE FIGHT FRAUD.

Court Rules Against Russell Claimant for Quarter Million.

Bozrah, April 13.—After a hearing that began 202 days ago the claimant for half of the $500,000 estate of Daniel Russell of Melrose has lost his case in the probate court.

The final words of Judge Lawton's opinion leave no ground for hope except through an appeal to the supreme court. Those words were:

"I find that none of the petitions now before the court was brought or presented by Daniel Blake Russell, but by one who attempted to impersonate him and to defraud the estate in relation to which they were filed. Accordingly they all will be dismissed."

Both the claimant and his counsel, chief of whom is Leslie A. Simpson of North Dakota, will carry their fight to a final, and preparations for taking the case to the state supreme court will be made at once.

Taft Attends Clark Wedding.

United States Senate Adjourns to Permit Senators to Witness Ceremony.

Washington, April 13.—Miss Frances Dyer Clark, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Charles D. Clark of Wyoming, had the unusual honor of having the United States senate adjourn in her behalf so that the august solons could attend her wedding to George Hobart Chapman. President Taft also laid aside the cares of state to attend the ceremony, and the distinguished company included besides members of the supreme court, the vice-president, cabinet officials and a goodly representation of society folk and diplomats.

Expensive Politeness.

Polite people in New York are gruffers, press agents, pluckers and grabbers. All know about gruffers and grabbers. The pluckers and grabbers, some of them with manners of Sir Roger de Coverley, get on crowded elevators where women are and take off hats to put in front of a man's eyes while they work. One of the "elegant gentlemen" wearing a stove-pipe hat last year got my fine alum Kohlmoor scarfpin. Aman is a fool to wear a real high-priced diamond where so many polite gentry are around. Look what New York politeness cost poor young Mr. Van Norden—picking up a fallen pocket-book for a falling young lady.—New York Press.

ROOSEVELT IS TO MEET TAFT.

Both to Speak at Conservation Congress at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., April 13.—With former President Roosevelt, President Taft and Gifford Pinchot, deputy chief forester of the department of agriculture, as speakers, the national conservation congress will convene in convention hall here early in September. At a meeting of the Kansas City Commercial club the date of the congress was fixed to accommodate Colonel Roosevelt, who will speak at Oswatimie, Kan., August 29, and at Cheyenne, Wyo., August 31.

ANOTHER DEMOCRAT WINS OUT.

Republican New Britain Elects Mayor Over Present Incumbent.

Hartford, Conn., April 13.—Just one week after Hartford upset pet theocrat and elected a Democratic mayor, New Britain, the second largest city in Hartford county and for years known in Connecticut as a normally Republican stronghold, elected a Democrat, J. M. Halloran, as mayor to succeed George M. Landers, the Republican incumbent, who has been in office for four years. Mayor-elect Halloran failed to carry much of his ticket with him, however.

PITTSBURG NATIONALS
FRED CLARKE

Naturally the Pittsburgh will be a closely watched team during the National league race. Being the champions and also holders of the world's honors, added interest is given to their efforts because every fan is wondering if the Pirates can repeat. It was rather easy slodding for the Pittsburgh aggregation in 1909, and the pennant was clinched long before the season came to a close.

When the Pirates won the flag it meant the fourth major league pennant for the club under the management of Fred Clarke. In 1901 Clarke gave the Snaky City its first flag and came back with his great machine in 1902 and 1903. In 1908 Pittsburgh made a splendid fight, but lost to Chicago in the game that meant the pennant. The bad holes in that team were plugged last season and the pennant grabbing followed. If Clarke repeats this season it will put him in the front row of winners, with five pennants, the record to date. Pittsburgh was admitted to the National league in 1887, and has continuously retained its membership since that time, but it took Fred Clarke to turn the pennant winning trick and stamp himself as one of the masters of baseball. In building up his team for the coming season Clarke will have but little to do. His outfield is intact with himself, Tommy Leach and Wilson. A pretty sweet trio it is, too. First base has to be covered by a new man. Bill Abstein having been left out. Sharpe and Flynn are the leading applicants for the place, with chances favoring Sharpe at present. Johnny Miller, whose great rise to fame in 1909 created a sensation, will be at second, with Hans Wagner at his old place at short, ready to get after batting honors again, and Hobby Byrne at third. Gibson will of course do the bulk of the catching with Shonn, O'Connor and Bridges going after the extra place in the backstop department.

Of the 1909 pitching staff, Adams, Camnitz, Leever, Phillips, Maddox, Ledford, Powell, Froek and Brandon are left. Wobb, secured from Grand Rapids, is a likely candidate for south-pay duty and will probably stick, while Harry Camnitz and Moore have a chance to stick.

With this lineup it is safe to count on the Pirates all the way. The team that beats them out will win the pennant. The Chicago fans believe the Cubs can do it with Kling back, but when you have hitters like Wagner, Clarke and Leach, all baseball generals, with Gibson and Miller in reserve, there is some batting strength to the figured on and also some home running ability. The pitching department is the only chance for the Pirates to fall down, but the staff at this time looks every bit as good as last season, and even stronger in some respects.

GOING TO THE CIRCUS

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

Moses Fairman was visiting the Widow Hooper at least two nights a week with a view to matrimony. Just about this time the billposter for a circus appeared and posted the roadside barns with the usual gaudy bills, and the excitement began.

Parkville was no circus town. It never had had one and didn't want one. Such things were looked upon as demoralizing in the extreme. The bills were hardly up when the parents began warning their children and the ministers had something to say from the pulpits. On one of his visits to the widow Moses Fairman expressed the hope that she would not even permit her cat to view the circus parade, and the next instant he was a surprised man.

"Why, I shall be a spectator myself," replied the widow. "Not only that, but I shall attend the circus both afternoon and evening. I shall expect you to escort me in the evening."

"When?" gasped Moses as he stared at her with open mouth.

The widow repeated the words and said she was tickled to death that a circus was coming.

"But it's wicked! It's monstrous! You can't be in earnest!"

"I shall be there on a front seat." "But I won't go, and neither will any church member. You have heard what has been said about it. Why, you'd be turned out of the congregation as a black sheep. Mary, don't think of doing any such thing."

"Moses, I'm going to that circus, and that's that!" replied the widow as she put her foot down. "I don't believe there's any more wickedness about it than at a spelling school. Why should there be?"

"But circuses men swear and fight," protested Moses.

"So do lightning rod men and tin peddlers. I've heard some of the men around your mill swear."

"But circuses have a clown, and the clown—"

"And the clown he jokes and makes fun. Why shouldn't he?"

"Mary," solemnly said Moses, "if you go to that circus then all is over between us."

"All right, Moses; I'll be there."

Moses went straight from the house of the widow to that of his minister and told his story. "It produced consternation. The widow's independence had been winked at, but here was a case of revolution, rebellion, defiance. It must be met and crushed in the bud. The hour was late, but the minister went to struggle with the rebel. She put her head out of her chamber window and, after ascertaining his errand replied:

"I have been to Sunday school picnic of our church and seen selfishness, quarrelling and backbiting. It can be no worse at a circus, and I am going. Did you ever see a two horned rhinoceros?"

"No," was the stammering reply. "Then by all means go and see one! It may be your only chance for the next twenty years. Yes, and there's a five legged cat and a dodo."

Next day the news was all over town, and the earth proceeded to rock. The widow had many callers at her house, and Moses had many at his mill. All were "again" the widow. It was decided that she must be put down. At first she was only determined. So much was said, however, that she got her mind up and announced that she would attend Thursday evening prayer meeting and announce her position. She was there, and the church was crowded. It was hoped that she intended to recede from her first position, but it was a vain hope. She took the floor to ask how many persons present had ever attended a circus. Five men signified that they had, and seven or eight more could have done so, but didn't.

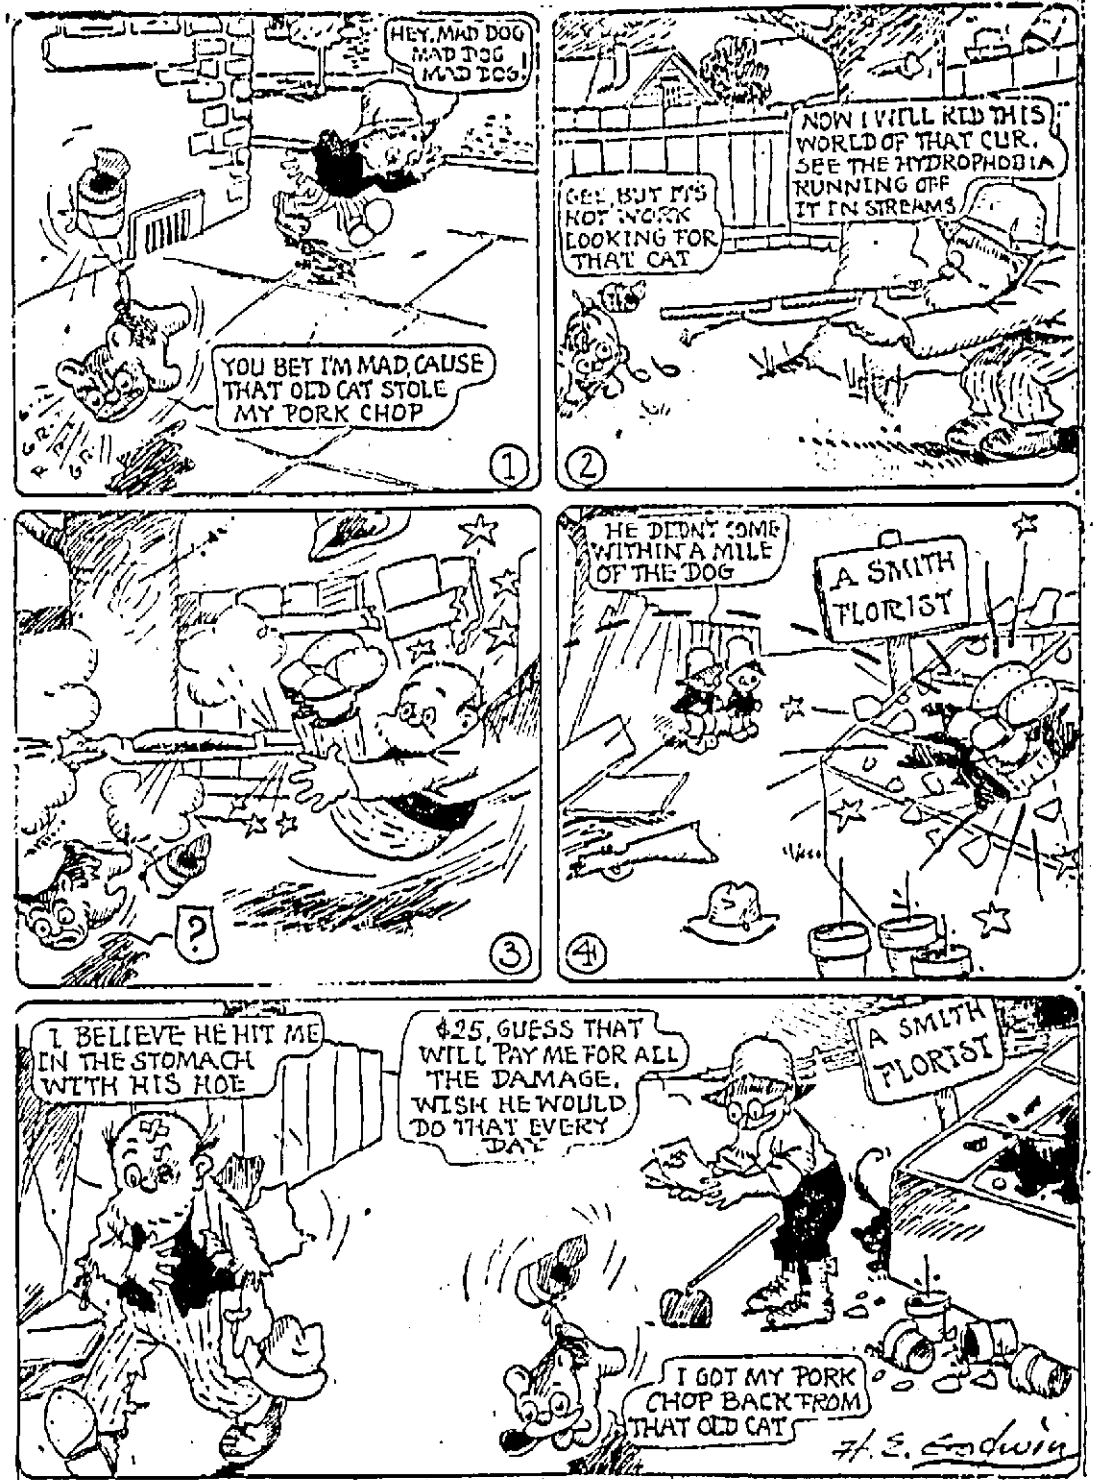

The widow asked how they had been harmed—if it had led to profanity, drunkenness, wife beating and theft. All pleaded not guilty. Then she asked why it was more wicked to look at an elephant than an ox. No one answered. Then she asked why it was worse to listen to a clown's joke than to some of the stories told around the postoffice while waiting for the mail to arrive. No one answered. Then she asked why a woman shouldn't walk a tight rope or a rail fence if she wanted to? She had seen men walking over the bridge on the railing, and no one had raised a fuss about it. Women would jump through hoops at the circus. What of it? She knew a woman in Parkville who had crawled through a screen door when locked out.

The widow's best weapon was saved to the last. She had made a good case, but she clinched it by asking if any one present would please point out in the Bible where Christian men and women were forbidden the circus any more than the purling bee, the coruhawking or the horses caddy pull. All heard, but no one complied, and Mrs. Hooper wrapped her toga about her and walked out.

The circus appeared on the date given. The widow was there, Moses was there, and the three or four people in town who weren't there were down with the mumps or measles. It was even said that the three ministers penetrated as far as the cages of the ostriches and the hyenas and that those who tried to figure up the increase of crime during the next year got lost in the maze before arriving at any startling results.

The Big Store has the exclusive right to sell the Bon Ton Corsets, the Royal Worcester Corsets and the Adjusto Corsets

IN SOUTHERN WISCONSIN.

Each line is complete and each line fills a demand better than any other corset in the same class. For years we have sold the lines with ever increasing patronage and entire satisfaction. No two types of figures are exactly alike and therefore you will find it to your best advantage to choose your corset where you can have not only the most reliable makes, but where the stock is comprehensive enough to afford just the right corset adapted to your figure. The Big Store has equipped a fitting room and an expert saleslady is always at your service.

Bon Ton Corsets

Here is a model reflecting all the essential features that go to make up the corset ideal. It is one of the most notable and popular new designs and an excellent corset value.

Fashioned Upon Extreme Lines

fully in accord with the prevailing fashion. With this model any woman of average build can attain the graceful, slender-appearing figure with perfect ease and comfort.

It is model 912, and has medium bust, very long hips and cut-away front. The back is very long and is "flexible" at bottom. NON-RUSTABLE BONING. 6 supporters. White batiste. Price$4.00

Without a Rival

The best medium priced corsets made are those bearing the trade-mark name ROYAL WORCESTER. No other feminine garment is more essential than the correct corset, for the corset is the base—the starting point of all fashionably designed, perfect fitting gowns.

Royal Worcester Corsets

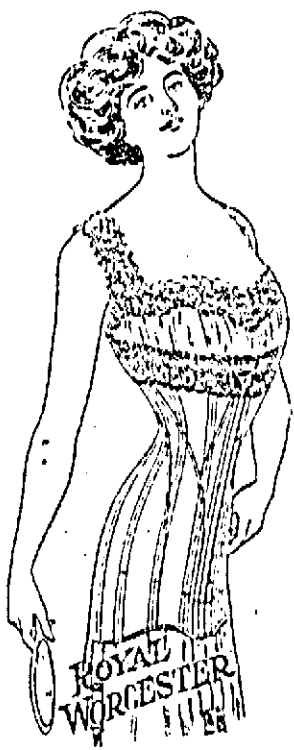

are correct from every viewpoint—the result of many years of progress and improvement in the corset art.

For those who seek perfect style, fit and long service, at a moderate price, the ROYAL WORCESTER will meet every requirement. Let us show you the new models.

Style 573 is for those of average build. Has medium high bust, very long hips and cutaway front. Very long back extending below ends of boning several inches. NON-RUSTABLE BONING. 6 supporters. White batiste. Style 584 same model, cut-in. Price$2.00

ADJUSTO CORSETS

THEY INJURE

CHILDREN

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying and a life-long annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Resall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy for constipation and associated bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it in our guarantee of full back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Resall Orderlies contain an entirely new ingredient which is odorous, tasteless and colorless. As an active agent, it enhances the valuable qualities of the best known intestinal regulator.

Resall Orderlies are eaten like candy. They are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, etc.; cooed, looseness or other undesirable effects. They have a very natural action upon the glands and organs with which they come in contact, and as a positive and regenerative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel and its dry mucous lining; remove irritation, overcome weakness, tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles, and restore the bowels and associated organs to move vigorously and healthily.

Resall Orderlies completely relieve constipation, except when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really no medicine for this purpose so good as Resall Orderlies, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form, in two sizes of packages: 12 tablets in one, and 24 tablets in two. Remember you can obtain Resall Orderlies in Jansville only at our store—The Resall Store, The Smith Drug Co.

Empress Fortune Small.

The prince regent is reported to have told the members of the government that lately the people have been asserting that the late empress grand dowager has left an enormous amount of money. They express a desire that it be appropriated to the use of the country and even the ministers have memorialized the throne to that effect, but as a matter of fact her majesty has not left very much. It is not sufficient to effect any of the reforms. He intends to beg the empress dowager to have the exact amount published in the official gazette so as to dispel the doubts of the public and to devote it to the reorganization of the navy when the naval commissioners return to Peking.—Shanghai Times.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A GOOD memory is a splendid thing. But not at all splendid.

There is one kind of memory that's a curse. An ability to forget at the right time is a fine art.

The other day a friend of mine introduced me to her brother who has just returned from a several years' stay in a distant city.

He seemed a fine, manly young man.

I said as much later to a woman who used to know him.

"Yes," she said with a peculiar rising eyebrow. "You didn't know."

Everett before he went away.

"Well, I can tell you you wouldn't have called him."

He was up to every kind of deviltry there is. Shiftless, too. Couldn't keep a job more than two or three weeks. Then finally something awful happened. He stole some money, I guess.

Nobody knew just what it was for they looked it up and sent him away. That's why he had been gone so long. They say he's changed a lot. I'm sure I hope so.

He does seem a good deal more of a man. I guess he's going to try to live his old self down.

Why couldn't she have helped him by not telling me that?

It was evident that he was trying to build a future that should make everyone forget the past. Why should anyone insist in digging out that past and trying to taint my admiration by informing me of the fine, manly mistakes? Why not let all who could know him as the fine, manly man he was so evidently trying to be?

There is a pleasant, agreeable young school teacher in the high school of the town where I live, some of whose childhood friends I met recently.

I admitted her.

"Yes," she said, "and the remarkable thing is that she used to be the most disagreeable, ill-tempered, little girl that ever was."

I have an aunt who, whenever she sees me, takes it a point to remind me, and whoever is with me, what a filthy, nervous little girl I was, how I never could sit still and how careless and untidy I was about my room and my clothes.

There was a senior at college when I was a freshman whom I used to greatly admire. She had very sweet and pretty features. One day I was prying them to one of her classmates.

"My dear, if you had been seen what a frightful one of the most awkward and shameless girls I ever saw. Yes, these four years have done a great deal for her."

There is much to be proud of in attainment, in the having overcome difficulties.

I suppose it is really far more a reason for pride to have been dishonest and to have become honest, to have been ill-bred and to have attained breeding, than to have been lovely with those virtues.

And yet most of us somehow or other don't seem to be very anxious to have our past weaknesses continually called to mind.

We want others to think of us as what we are trying to do, not what we may have been.

Wherefore when the right time comes try to remember that there is a fine art of forgetting and that it's often a good thing to

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By ROSE TERRELL.

This is the most trying season of the year on the cook. Fresh vegetables are not in the market or are too high to be considered in the daily menu, and all the family have tired of the staples used during the winter. The system craves a change, and the limited purse cannot comply with the demands.

Salads are a saving grace at this time of the year. Lettuce is not dear, even when brought in from a distance, and at least once a day a green salad with French dressing should form part of the menu.

Splach is still high, but if the housekeeper is near the country it will pay to take the whole family for an outing and come back with the lunch basket full of the delicate dandelion buds and leaves. These may either be boiled with a bit of salt pork as greens, or be served as a salad. An onion, chopped fine and sprinkled among the leaves will give a pleasant flavor to the otherwise rather bitter herb. This is one of the most useful of all our native herbs, and if rarely used, replaces the old-fashioned spring medicine.

The natural call of the appetite for a change at this season should not go unheeded. We are all busy, or overworked, when we neglect such imperative demands. If there is no other way and the green vegetables are still expensive it is wise to cut out some other dish and make a simpler meal which will include splach or some other green stuff.

Apples are poor at this season, but oranges are cheaper than they have been and furnish a good substitute, where good apples cannot be procured. Plenty of baked or fried fruit should be on the table. Even the dried fruits are to be preferred to a dried salad of any fruit. To cook dried apples, peaches or even apricots, so that the family will eat them, soak them over night and after bringing the hot water to a boil, drain it off. Add more water and stew slowly for a long time till thoroughly cooked. Sugar to suit, but do not use so much as to disguise the flavor of the fruit.

There is a certain little dried fruit which, when used with a few raisins, makes a very substitute for fresh fruit. They are cheaper than prunes, and are a little less common.

Watercress is found in so many of the streams that it is a pity its use as a salad green is not more common. It is a good deal of trouble to prepare, as the woody stems must be cut out, but it pays for the work. A salad of half watercress and half lettuce is especially appetizing with good bread and butter, and makes a lunch that is very satisfying on the first hot days of spring.

Thubarb or elephant, is in the market from the south, and is even found in sheltered garden farther north. It is most wholesome and makes a delightful chutney.

If you have never baked it, try it now. Cut the stalks in inch lengths. It is very young it need not be peeled, as the thick covering will cook perfectly tender and contains not only flavoring of value, but also the delicate pink color, which makes the dish charming to the eye. Place the pieces in a covered baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and fill with water to the top of the dish. Bake for a long time in a slow oven. When perfectly tender it will be almost like jelly and yet hold its shape.

INTERNAL BEAUTY NECESSARY.

By MARY RUSSELL.

When once women understand that they must beautify from within the work of the beauty doctors

will decline. Not that any woman

is justified in neglecting her personal appearance.

Every legitimate means at her command should be employed in beautifying and keeping bright this temple of the soul.

But all the labor should not be expended on the exterior if any more than a good housekeeper

would wash the outside of the coffee

pot and leave the inside dull and unclean.

The soul shines through—no matter how opaque we think our exterior. A loving heart will be reflected in the beautifying expression. A cheerful soul will make only lines of beauty.

A generous disposition will leave no

unmistakable signs and all of these will be beautiful.

Our lives are made up of little bits, like a fine mosaic. The little acts are the jewels and porcelain and emeralds that make the perfect picture. And no man can say which is a little deed or which is a great one.

We are not given the power to look very deep. What we see is usually all that we demand.

We are strangely incurious. We are so easily satisfied with our own judgment that we are hasty of decision.

Sometimes we remember for hours long days of remembering but that does not teach us the lesson of trying to understand. And sometimes we are forced to admit that we are dull—stupid in the fullest sense, but this self-knowledge comes after we have wrought into the fabric of our being the truth for which we pay in long hours of pain.

Begin now to try to understand those around you. It will need patience—for true charity has infinite patience. It will take generosity. We are inclined to think that generosity is of feeling—sometimes it is in understanding. And lastly the light of love must be thrown upon the subject if we would truly know what we are trying to understand.

We are so busy, or so selfish, or so careless that we pass by every day the opportunity to lend a hand.

We are so blind that we do not see the opportunity. Perhaps it is a child that has not understood the truth that has been given to its life. Perhaps it is a woman who is suffering so correctly intense pain and disappointment. Your word of understanding or cheerful helpfulness may save a soul from despair.

It has always been a mystery to me—this blindness to each other's needs. When one has suffered and borne the crosses of life cheerfully there comes an understanding of life and its meaning that is the reward for the path of the path of learning. We must learn to use the knowledge gained.

If we learn to understand by suffering the suffering is worth while, but if we suffer and grow bitter then we have failed in life's great school.

HAIR-PIN GUIDE

Gives Women's Hats From Numerous Unrightly Perforations.

Many a woman has regarded modestly a once beautiful hat that had come to look like a sieve. Both sides of the crown had been pierced with hatpins so often and in so many different places that the perforations had made it unfit for use. A patent hatpin guide has come to the rescue. This hatpin has been used every time. Invented a hatpin guide that takes the pin through the same hole each time, a feat that cannot be performed without some sort of guide. On each side of the hat, both outside and inside, two round, button-like devices are fastened. When the pin is inserted in one side it passes through a hole in the center of these two guides and on the other side finds a similar aperture. The consequence is that there is no puncturing of other places along the crown of the hat and the outside places of this guide device can be ornamental, if desired, and add to the attractiveness of the hat, rather than decrease it.

Truth Must Be Instilled. It should not be necessary to teach a child to tell the truth; but it is.

PRETTY FOUILLARD.

One of the oddly draped tunics is employed in this pretty frock of foulard. Lace bands and metalions are elaborately used on bodice in connection with stitched bands of plain silk.

AFTERNOON DRESS OF FOUILLARD.

of natural shade of pongee, this sketch shows one of the smartest gowns of the season. The bodice is trimmed with a cascade of white material, which forms the jacket and finishes neck and sleeves. Skirt has a deep tucked ruffle with points on each side, and bottom is pleated. The hat is of straw, with crown covered with flowers. A bunch of violets worn on left side of the bodice gave a pretty finish to the whole costume.

The End.

When there is nothing left for a man to be enthusiastic over, he might as well be dead.

We will not mince words here.

PARENTS SHOULD

BE HELD LIABLE

BY LAW FOR THE MORAL WEL-

FARE OF THEIR CHILDREN.

JUDGE BEN LINDSEY SPOKE

Of the Work Among the Tough "Kids"

in Juvenile Court at Denver—

"Mickey" An Example.

Parents should be made legally responsible for the moral welfare

of their children as well as for their material welfare was one of the starting statements made by Judge

Lindsey of the Denver Juvenile Court

in his address on the Moral Welfare of the Child at the Congregational church last evening. The parent must give a bond to the court," said Judge

Lindsey, "to care for properly which may be given the child, why should

they not also be responsible for his moral welfare. The first law of this sort was passed in Colorado in 1899—

a statute making all men legally responsible for the moral welfare of the boy and that law was passed largely through the loyalty of Mickey who was known to the police as the worst kid in the town.

The speaker prefaced his remarks

by stating that 10,000 boys came before the bars of the various courts

of this country in each year and that the problem was one of the utmost importance to the state as it affected

the highest degree the future of the state in its effect upon its future citizens.

"Mickey," said Judge Lindsey, is an actual character but he is also a type of the boy with whom I have to deal

in my work. My acquaintance with Mickey began ten years ago when he first appeared in my court charged with the crime of burglary. The speaker then told of how he obtained

Mickey's confidence and persuaded

him to bring in the rest of the gang

so that he could talk to them.

In substance Judge Lindsey spoke

as follows: The importance of understanding the boy and of his understanding you cannot be exaggerated.

In this work, he is loyal to his gang

and his latest crime is to "pull out"

on the others of the gang. The problem of the judge is to turn this loyalty toward the state and his interest in the game of deceiving the police to an interest in the better game of making the most out of life.

"After often the psychology of the boy is neglected. The police consider only the facts in the particular case which not merely the act should be considered but we must appeal

back to the home, the school and the state in which the boy has grown up. The blame should rest partially on any faults in these rather than on the boy. The juvenile court cannot do the work of the home. Fear is the father of lies and many boys

are taught in their homes to do right

because they will be punished otherwise and not because it is right. This develops later in the life into the idea that it is right to do wrong as long as you do not get caught. This boy must realize his moral efficiency

largely in the home.

"My second line is sociological in nature. Too often the father is killed or injured in the factory and the mother is forced to become the bread winner of the family. Lasted of the home more, 45,000 boys every year who are charged with crime

come from homes of this sort. The boy is not given his fair chance

through the lack of sympathy and which caused his father's death.

Big business is to blame. Then too

a state which permits the existence of gambling houses, brothels and other

law breaking establishments to exist

where they can be seen and understood by the boy cannot justly blame the boy for thinking he may likewise break the laws. The state where business and money gathering

is placed above the morality of the home must bear its share of the blame.

"State and every citizen of the state owes a duty to the boy to direct

his habits when they can be directed to give him playgrounds, and in so far as this duty is not performed

the responsibility should be legal as well as moral.

"The physiological condition of the boy should also be considered. A strong well nourished healthy boy is not subject to the same temptations

as a weakling. The physical condition should be examined in each case

where the boy is brought before the court. Many a child needs the doctor more than the jailer.

"The girl question is not being considered in this talk. That is another question and a mighty big and serious one it is. But the same rules apply. We must have sympathy with the child and must understand her and she must understand us.

"The danger lies in going to either extreme, too much brutality is worse

than useless and too much leniency

is as bad. The aim is to strike the golden mean and to teach the child

through the home, the school and the state to do right because it is right and not because he or she will be punished for doing otherwise.

"Out of the 531 boys I have sent to prison each one has gone by himself carrying his own commitment

papers in his pocket. Of this man

five run away and three of that five came back and gave themselves

up and the other two were reformed,

so you see that sympathy and trust

do pay in this work.

Judge Lindsey gave in his address

his ideas on this question looking at them from point of view of an earnest

and careful investigator and his talk

was filled with anecdotes illustrating

the different ideas he brought out.

These were both humorous and sad

and were heartily applauded by his audience.

M. Smith introduced the speaker to an audience which filled the main floor and the gallery of the church.
